Letter from the Coronet

Unto the Populace of Three Mountains, do Baron Etienne and Baroness Penelope send greetings.

As the seasons change and the weather cools we look forward to the Barony's Autumnal events. First is Battle of the Bands is in just two weeks where there will be much music and mayhem. We are excited to see all the Bands compete and cant wait to see all of you there. During the event the competition for the Rapier Championship scroll will be held and that too will be wonder to see.

Next will be Honor Feast and Arts and Sciences Championship in November. The Honoree is Beak Bell of Dumfries, a truly deserving individual, please come to celebrate her. And we cannot wait to see Our Populace show of my their many artistic talents and compete to be the next champion.

Also we want to congratulate Their Royal Highnesses Kathall and Merowyn. It is exciting to have locals as the new heirs. Remember to submit recommendations for both Kingdom and Baronial awards.

Yours in Service,

Penelope and Etienne, Three Mountains

Officer Reports

Seneschale - William:

Unto the Coronets, Council, and Populace of Three Mountains,

There has not been a significant number of activities within the Barony, but there have been numerous local events that have been attended by our populace, along with September Crown, where Kathall and Merowyn were victorious and are the new Kingdom Heirs.

It was determined that there was too little time to pull together the Legacy Scroll Competition for the October date, so that has been postponed until later next Spring.

I was given the contact information for a potential new event site near Sandy, and will be checking it out in the near future. It would be big enough to hold Crown Tournaments, so it will be interesting to see what could come of this.

Please be sure to sign-in to the 'Chat' so we can take proper attendance.

Arts and Sciences - Dragomira:

Greetings unto their Excellencies and to the Populace of our fair Barony!

Very little to report this month. We did not have a class for A&S night, instead we had open project and social night, led by my most amazing deputy, Judith. Next month, Classes will return with Anya Simonova teaching Candle Making. The bardic circle will also return upstairs on A&S night.

Yours in Service, Dragomira Skomorokhova - A&S
Minister for the Barony of Three Mountains

Dance - Kateline:

Next dance night is September 22nd.

Herald - Braennan:

Unto the assembled populace, esteemed Council, and their most Excelling and Excellent Excelsiors of Excellencies, does Don Braennan Arran MacEarnan an Gaoth, called The Misguided, Herald Pursuivant of Three Mountains, send greetings.

I have nothing to report.

Scribe - Carith:

Greetings unto their Excellencies and the Populace of Three Mountains,

This month has been rather busy for Three Mountains as I opened up my home on Sunday's to assist the Royal Scribe with Kingdom Charter Painting. We had at least 8 scribes each of the two days to help us and as of the middle of September we assisted with getting things caught up and there was much jubilation for the help that came in from the entire tri-Baronial region to the Kingdom.

Huzzah to all who joined us.

In addition, I have started the process to build new Baronial Charters for the Barony and the first three designs are ready for us to create text and have calligraphy added to them. I hope to be able to have at least these three new designs ready by Honor Feast.

As I am running gate at Battle of the Bands, a friend and fellow scribe by the name of Echo has agreed to host a scribal table in the dragon wing for folks who wish to paint charters (either Baronial or Kingdom). I continue to attend both the first and second Tuesdays at the Lodge where people can pick up and drop off charters. SPEAKING OF WHICH, if you have Baronial charters please let me know so I can arrange for them to be collected.

Yours in Service,
Baroness Carith
Scribe, Barony of Three Mountains

Chatelaine - Haeloc:

Greetings to Their Excellencies, and to the officers and populace of Three Mountains!

This month's newcomer night was a class on Bardic Basics, facilitated by our beloved Dragomira. We had a total of 3 newcomers joining us, and a wonderful time was had by all.

Next month's topic will be "Getting a basic kit," where we'll discuss garb, feastware, and other things that newcomers may need. Since this will be immediately after the Purge, I wanted to host a session where people could ask questions about things they acquired, and offer some insights for finding their kit on a budget (what kind of stuff to look for secondhand, good online resources/storefronts, etc.).

Our new Gold Key officer Adelaide of Three Mountains is still getting an inventory of Gold Key done, and we're both working with the Kingdom Webminister to get access to the Gold Key email.

Additionally, the Kingdom Chatelaine forwarded an email from Asny Brunsdottir in the Shire of Mountain Edge, who may have found a possible venue for future events. I'm reaching back out to her this week, and once I have more information I'll forward it to the seneschal for safekeeping.

Chronicler - Pleiades:

Greetings all!

The September Plume was posted to The Book of Faces on September 14th.

YIS, HL Pleiades

Historian - Judith:

Nothing to report this month, though I was approached by our new Thrown Weapons champion, Ivarr Brokksson, asking about the history of our baronial champions and the history/lore behind the regalia.

What a great question! If anyone would like to share information and tales about past years' champions and championships, and also about the regalia, past or present, please contact me and/or Ivarr. He proposed putting together a history of these things, and I think that's a fabulous idea for all of the baronial champions, championships, and regalias. I have what is in the OP and also some of our past issues of Plumes, but there is a lot more that falls under the category of unwritten or oral history that I would love to collect and preserve for posterity.

Event Steward Report. Notice that this contains material for the Plume which does not need to be read out loud for the monthly baronial council meeting. I also do not yet have the final numbers for Adults versus Children for the event. Sithmeath probably sent it to me last month and I lost it, and she hasn't had a chance to send it to me again.

Web Minister - Etienne:

Nothing to report this month

Event Reports

Mts Pride Field Day, on the Kingdom calendar August 14 - 16 Judith

Here are the numbers for Mountains Pride Field Day 2026.

Total attendees: Roughly 81, maybe a few more. (A few people arrived after gate had closed and made donations in lieu of gate fees.) I don't have the exact numbers of attendees under 18 years of age, but I think there were between a half dozen and a dozen. Twenty people paid for camping, while 52 paid the day-trip gate fee. Fourteen of the paid attendees were non-members.

Income: $2809. This includes gate ($2040), food ($269), donations ($100), silent auction ($200), etc.

Expenses: $819.18. This includes site rental ($300), biffy rental ($379.18), the NMS fees that are sent to Kingdom ($140), etc. No one else presented any receipts for reimbursement. The hay bales were returned to the feed store for full credit since they were undamaged, and we did not need to provide a Certificate of Insurance.

Total Profit: $1989.92.

There were a few lost and found items, most of which have been identified by their owners and returned. Some things from the storage unit were left at the event site since they will be used for Battle of the Bands at the same site. Everything else was returned to the storage unit, hopefully in good shape.

If the checks have cleared, I propose that the event be officially closed.

This does not need to be read out loud at our baronial council meeting, but I wanted to specifically mention people who did a lot of work for the event, whether as a Staff Lead or Officer or just general support. They deserve fame and glory and the barony's (and my) gratitude. Future event stewards -- take note for when you are recruiting staff. People who write up award recommendations -- also take note of these people's contributions to the joy and success of our activities.

And please forgive me if I forget to mention your name specifically. Many people pitched in at various points before, during, and after the event, and I didn't always write down everyone's contributions. Many people helped wherever they were needed but are only listed in one category. Thank you to all of you whether or not you are listed below and whether or not I spelled your name correctly.

Champions, both old and new. The new ones, which were not listed in last month's report: Elovel of Avalon (archery), Zaal Kherkheulidze (heavy), Gregorio Cristovalez de la Vega (rapier), Ivarr Brokksson (thrown weapons). The old ones, who arranged and ran this year's championship competitions: Feradach the Beardless (archery), Sebastiaen des Roseaux Olinson (heavy), Ynes Cabeza de Vaca (rapier), Bjorki Shieldsbane (thrown weapons)

Marshals in Charge. Tamsin Muniere (overall MIC and archery MIC), Sebastiaen des Roseaux Olinson (heavy MIC), Ynes Cabeza de Vaca (rapier MIC), Aelfwynn Fiske (thrown weapons MIC)

People running A&S activities and classes. Carith de Cuevas, Avraham ben David ben Ari, Mergret Dyer, Gytha Anora ni Kiernan, Karis Jessica Pursey, Dragomira Skomorokhova, Andrew Stiubhard & Aibinn ingen hui Neill, Ulaan Ironarm Swanmaker

People working on everything else (gate, food, setup/takedown, officer-related duties, source of support and good advice, etc.). Edmund Courtecuisse, Claire le Deyare, Donnina Donatelli, Etienne le Marchand, Braennan MacEarnan, Sithmaith ingean Shtemni, Michael Sinclair, William Tarrell, Haeloc of Three Mountains, Clovis de Walton & Ximena of Terra Pomaria, Penelope Violette, the Virgin Countess Inn, and many other helpful souls whose names I did not record.

Yours in Service,

Judith of Three Mountains

Battle of the Bands, September 25-27 Michael

Its coming FAST!

Checks are cut and in hand and ready to be distributed.

2/3 of the needed supplies and equipment are already on site.

Volunteers calls will be going out soon for load in/ setup help and clean up / break down help.

Marshals, Gate help, VC help are all needed as well!

This year we have at least twice as many teams and expect quite a show!

The VC has published a Menu and is ready to go!

Print out and publications are going to be made this week and final event info should hit the event page and website soon as well!

The events to the left are paid events that require garb unless otherwise noted. Single day events typically charge a gate fee between $25-45. Each event will have more details available (including schedules, pre-registration links, and fees) on the An Tir Events web page

If you do not have garb but would like to attend, alert your Chatelaine and arrangements can be made. Most events offer "Gold Key," which is a collection of appropriate garb available for attendees for no additional charge. Check with the event steward or local Chatelaine to find out if Gold Key will be available for an event.

Social nights, practices, arts and sciences nights, etc. are more casual (modern clothing, usually free to attend) but if there is a class or workshop, the host may charge a fee for supplies. You may always attend to simply observe and socialize without payment regardless.
